Implementing Strategies: Management and Operations Issues

Chapter Seven
Chapter Objectives

1. Explain why strategy implementation is more difficult than strategy formulation.

2. Discuss the importance of annual objectives and policies in achieving organizational commitment for strategies to be implemented.

3. Explain why organizational structure is so important in strategy implementation.

4. Compare and contrast restructuring and reengineering.
5. Describe the relationships between production/operations and strategy implementation.

6. Explain how a firm can effectively link performance and pay to strategies.

7. Discuss employee stock ownership plans (ESOPs) as strategic management concept.

8. Describe how to modify an organizational culture to support new strategies.

The Nature of Strategy Implementation

- Strategy formulation is positioning forces before the action.
- Strategy implementation is managing forces during the action.
- Strategy formulation focuses on effectiveness.
- Strategy implementation focuses on efficiency.
The Nature of Strategy Implementation

- Strategy formulation is primarily an intellectual process.
- Strategy implementation is primarily an operational process.
- Strategy formulation requires good intuitive and analytical skills.
- Strategy implementation requires special motivation and leadership skills.

Annual objectives:

1. represent the basis for allocating resources
2. are a primary mechanism for evaluating managers
3. are the major instrument for monitoring progress toward achieving long-term objectives
4. establish organizational, divisional, and departmental priorities
The Stamus Company’s Hierarchy of Aims

The Stamus Company’s Hierarchy of Aims

Long-Term Company Objective
- Double company revenues in two years through market development and market penetration. (Current revenues are $2 million.)

Division I Annual Objective
- Increase divisional revenues by 40% this year and 40% next year. (Current revenues are $1 million.)

Division II Annual Objective
- Increase divisional revenues by 40% this year and 40% next year. (Current revenues are $0.5 million.)

Division III Annual Objective
- Increase divisional revenues by 50% this year and 50% next year. (Current revenues are $0.5 million.)

R&D Annual Objective
- Develop two new products this year that are successfully marketed.

Production Annual Objective
- Increase production efficiency by 30% this year.

Marketing Annual Objective
- Increase the number of salespeople by 40% this year.

Finance Annual Objective
- Obtain long-term financing of $400,000 in the next six months.

Personnel Annual Objective
- Reduce employee absenteeism from 10% to 5% this year.

Policies

Policy

- specific guidelines, methods, procedures, rules, forms, and administrative practices established to support and encourage work toward stated goals
- instruments for strategy implementation
Policies

- set boundaries, constraints, and limits on the kinds of administrative actions that can be taken to reward and sanction behavior
- clarify what can and cannot be done in pursuit of an organization’s objectives
TABLE 7-3  A Hierarchy of Policies

Company Strategy
Acquire a chain of retail stores to meet our sales growth and profitability objectives.

Supporting Policies
1. “All stores will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday.” (This policy could increase retail sales if stores currently are open only 40 hours a week.)
2. “All stores must submit a Monthly Control Data Report.” (This policy could reduce expense-to-sales ratios.)
3. “All stores must support company advertising by contributing 5 percent of their total monthly revenues for this purpose.” (This policy could allow the company to establish a national reputation.)
4. “All stores must adhere to the uniform pricing guidelines set forth in the Company Handbook.” (This policy could help assure customers that the company offers a consistent product in terms of price and quality in all its stores.)

Divisional Objective
Increase the division’s revenues from $10 million in 2012 to $15 million in 2013.

Supporting Policies
1. “Beginning in January 2012, each one of this division’s salespersons must file a weekly activity report that includes the number of calls made, the number of miles traveled, the number of units sold, the dollar volume sold, and the number of new accounts opened.” (This policy could ensure that salespersons do not place too great an emphasis in certain areas.)
2. “Beginning in January 2012, this division will return to its employees 5 percent of its gross revenues in the form of a Christmas bonus.” (This policy could increase employee productivity.)
3. “Beginning in January 2012, inventory levels carried in warehouses will be decreased by 30 percent in accordance with a just-in-time (JIT) manufacturing approach.” (This policy could reduce production expenses and thus free funds for increased marketing efforts.)

Production Department Objective
Increase production from 20,000 units in 2012 to 30,000 units in 2013.

Supporting Policies
1. “Beginning in January 2012, employees will have the option of working up to 20 hours of overtime per week.” (This policy could minimize the need to hire additional employees.)
2. “Beginning in January 2012, perfect attendance awards in the amount of $100 will be given to all employees who do not miss a workday in a given year.” (This policy could decrease absenteeism and increase productivity.)
3. “Beginning in January 2012, new equipment must be leased rather than purchased.” (This policy could reduce tax liabilities and thus allow more funds to be invested in modernizing production processes.)
Some Issues That May Require a Management Policy

TABLE 7-4 Some Issues That May Require a Management Policy

- To offer extensive or limited management development workshops and seminars
- To centralize or decentralize employee-training activities
- To recruit through employment agencies, college campuses, and/or newspapers
- To promote from within or to hire from the outside
- To promote on the basis of merit or on the basis of seniority
- To tie executive compensation to long-term and/or annual objectives
- To offer numerous or few employee benefits
- To negotiate directly or indirectly with labor unions
- To delegate authority for large expenditures or to centrally retain this authority
- To allow much, some, or no overtime work
- To establish a high- or low-safety stock of inventory
- To use one or more suppliers
- To buy, lease, or rent new production equipment
- To greatly or somewhat stress quality control
- To establish many or only a few production standards
- To operate one, two, or three shifts
- To discourage using insider information for personal gain
- To discourage sexual harassment
- To discourage smoking at work
- To discourage insider trading
- To discourage moonlighting
Resource Allocation

Resource allocation

- central management activity that allows for strategy execution
- often based on political or personal factors

Strategic management enables resources to be allocated according to priorities established by annual objectives
Types of Resources

- Financial
- Physical
- Human
- Technological
Managing Conflict

- Conflict

  - disagreement between two or more parties on one or more issues

- Establishing annual objectives can lead to conflict because individuals have different expectations and perceptions, schedules create pressure, personalities are incompatible, and misunderstandings occur between line managers and staff managers.
Managing Conflict

- Avoidance
  - includes such actions as ignoring the problem in hopes that the conflict will resolve itself or physically separating the conflicting individuals

- Defusion
  - includes playing down differences between conflicting parties while accentuating similarities and common interests
Managing Conflict

Confrontation

- exemplified by exchanging members of conflicting parties so that each can gain an appreciation of the other’s point of view or holding a meeting at which conflicting parties present their views and work through their differences

Matching Structure With Strategy

- Structure largely dictates how objectives and policies will be established
- Structure dictates how resources will be allocated
Symptoms of an Ineffective Organizational Structure

TABLE 7-6 Symptoms of an Ineffective Organizational Structure

1. Too many levels of management
2. Too many meetings attended by too many people
3. Too much attention being directed toward solving interdepartmental conflicts
4. Too large a span of control
5. Too many unachieved objectives
6. Declining corporate or business performance
7. Losing ground to rival firms
8. Revenue and/or earnings divided by number of employees and/or number of managers is low compared to rival firms
The Functional Structure

- Functional structure
  - groups tasks and activities by business function, such as production/operations, marketing, finance/accounting, research and development, and management information systems

The Strategic Business Unit (SBU) Structure

- SBU structure
  - groups similar divisions into strategic business units and delegates authority and responsibility for each unit to a senior executive who reports directly to the chief executive officer.
  - can facilitate strategy implementation by improving coordination between similar divisions and channeling accountability to distinct business units.

The Matrix Structure

Matrix structure

most complex of all designs because it depends upon both vertical and horizontal flows of authority and communication
For a matrix structure to be effective, organizations need participative planning, training, clear mutual understanding of roles and responsibilities, excellent internal communication, and mutual trust and confidence.

Competitive Intelligence Officer (CIO)
Maintenance Officer (MO)
Restructuring

- involves reducing the size of the firm in terms of number of employees, number of divisions or units, and number of hierarchical levels in the firm’s organizational structure
- also called downsizing, rightsizing, or delayering
Reengineering

- involves reconfiguring or redesigning work, jobs, and processes for the purpose of improving cost, quality, service, and speed

- also called process management, process innovation, or process redesign
1. Provide full transparency to all stakeholders
2. Reward long-term performance with long-term pay, rather than annual incentives
3. Base executive compensation on actual company performance, rather than stock price
4. Extend the time-horizon for bonuses. Replace short-term with long-term incentives.

5. Increase equity between workers and executives. Delete many special perks and benefits for executives.
Linking Performance and Pay to Strategies

1. Does the plan capture attention?
2. Do employees understand the plan?
3. Is the plan improving communication?
4. Does the plan pay out when it should?
5. Is the company or unit performing better?
Managing Resistance to Change

- Force change strategy
  - involves giving orders and enforcing those orders

- Educative change strategy
  - one that presents information to convince people of the need for change

- Self-interest change strategy
  - one that attempts to convince individuals that the change is to their personal advantage
Creating a Strategy-Supportive Culture

1. Formal statements of organizational philosophy, charters, creeds, materials used for recruitment and selection, and socialization
2. Designing of physical spaces, facades, buildings
3. Deliberate role modeling, teaching, and coaching by leaders
4. Explicit reward and status system, promotion criteria
5. Stories, legends, myths, and parables about key people and events
Creating a Strategy-Supportive Culture

6. What leaders pay attention to, measure, and control

7. Leader reactions to critical incidents and organizational crises

8. How the organization is designed and structured

9. Organizational systems and procedures

10. Criteria used for recruitment, selection, promotion, leveling off, retirement, and “excommunication” of people
